

Foreign Policy and the 2012 US Presidential Elections

Monday, 13th February 2012 from 7:00pm

Dr Andrew Parasiliti

Executive Director,

IISS-US; Corresponding Director, IISS-Middle East

IISS–Middle East

Dr. Parasiliti will assess the role of foreign policy in the 2012 Presidential elections, including the prospects for US policy toward Iran. He will offer his analysis of what we might expect in US foreign policy, especially in the Middle East, from either a second term for President Obama or a Republican Administration.

Andrew Parasiliti is Executive Director, International Institute for Strategic Studies-US, and Corresponding Director, IISS-Middle East. He was Foreign Policy Advisor to US Senator Chuck Hagel (2001-2005) and Director of the Middle East Initiative at the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University (1999-2001). He received a Ph.D. from the Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies, Johns Hopkins University, where he wrote his dissertation on Iraq.

Venue: Skyline Lounge, Level 51

Price: BD5 + 15%(inclusive of refreshments)

RSVP: memberrelation@capitalclubbahrain.com or phone +973 17100100